

BIOGRAPHY – ED MOORE

Ed Moore is a retired newspaper Sports Editor and Sports Columnist. Ed won 91 journalism awards in his career, and three times was named one of the top five sports columnists in the United States and the sports sections he edited were named among the best in the nation 18 times. Ed is a journalism graduate of Auburn University, a member of Phi Alpha Theta national history honor society, and a member of Who's Who among American teachers, awarded while teaching high school history, rhetoric and literature. Ed earned a Virginia state teaching certificate in English through Virginia Wesleyan, and a Certificate in Military Strategy and Policy through the Old Dominion University Masters of History program. Since 2004, Ed is a member of the Speakers' Bureau for the Mariners' Museum, primarily speaking about Naval Warfare. Ed is currently the Business Manager for Beth Moore & Associates, CPAs.